

Air Quality Update for Red Lodge and the Surrounding Area
For Wednesday, August 6 2008

Health officials at Beartooth Hospital have issued an update on air quality as of 8:00 this morning for Red Lodge and the surrounding area. The community of Red Lodge reports air quality this morning that is GOOD according to Department of Environmental Quality air quality measuring equipment located at Beartooth Hospital. GOOD air quality is reported throughout Carbon County.

Air quality conditions are still subject to change on a hourly basis, just as the weather changes. Individuals with health concerns are encouraged to contact their personal physicians or to consult the helpful visualization tables on the Department of Environmental Quality website at www.deq.mt.gov/fireupdates.

Direct inquiries regarding air quality to www.cityofredlodge.com where visual guidelines will be posted.

For further information on the contents of this release, please call 446-0027 or 446-0037.